Strong Client Relationship

From our deep relationship based on trust, BAM was engaged to create a state-of-the-art research and development headquarters on a limited budget and tight schedule, and the client was incredibly pleased with the final design.

Ongoing Partnership

Upon a decision to relocate to a new space, Profectus reached out to BAM due to our familiarity with their brand, our in-depth knowledge of end user needs, and ease of execution.

Center for Collaboration

BAM exceeded client expectations by providing a facility with eye-catching design and a wealth of collaborative areas with top-of-the-line technology for researchers to easily review their findings.
